With You Every Step of the Way

No Detail is Too Small

We understand that planning a funeral is, thankfully, not something that you do every day. There are many different details that you need to consider, including a coffin, which allows your loved one to rest peacefully. With a wide range of options available, making the right selection can seem overwhelming. But our team is here to help simplify the process and guide you as you make the choice for you and your family.

All products offered by Coles Funeral Directors are manufactured to the highest standards. So whether you prefer traditional or modern, or want a more sustainable option, you can rest assured that we will only ever source from quality suppliers renowned for their high standards.

The following items are examples which we can offer and our team will be able to advise you on any alternatives should you require them. Where relevant, we can also add religious decorative furniture.
